

dr hab. prof. UW
Shoshana Ronen

Graduated the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. PhD in philosophy in the University of Warsaw, where also she received her habilitation degree in literary studies. Among her publications: In Pursuit of the Void: Journeys to Poland in Contemporary Israeli Literature, The Judaica Foundation, Cracow (2001);

Nietzsche and Wittgenstein: In Search of Secular Salvation, Dialog, Warszawa (2002); Polin – A Land of Forests and Rivers: Images of Poland and Poles in Contemporary Hebrew Literature in Israel, WUW, Warsaw, (2007); Polish and Hebrew Literature and National Identity, (co-editor with Alina Molisak: 2010); A Prophet of Consolation on the Threshold of Destruction: Yehoshua Ozjasz Thon, an Intellectual Portrait, Elipsa, Warsaw (2015); A Romantic Polish-Jew: Rabbi Ozjasz Thon from Various Perspectives, (co-editor with Michał Galas), Jagiellonian University Press (2015).

She is interested in modern Hebrew literature, Jewish thought, and modern philosophy. Particularly she is dealing with questions like: The Holocaust in Hebrew literature, Jewish philosophical and theological thinking after Auschwitz; women in Judaism and Hebrew literature, memory, identity and nationhood in modern Hebrew literature.